JEFF DAVIS IS DEAD!

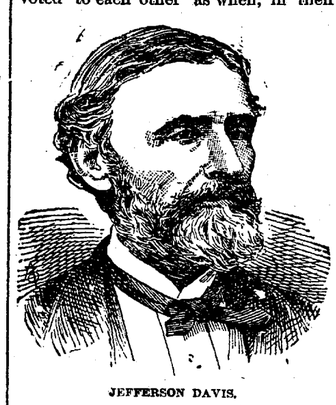

The Rebel Chieftain Breathes His Last at Midnight in the City of New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 6.—Jefferson Davis, the ex-president of the Southern Confederacy, died at 12:45 o'clock this morning.

The announcement of the event created a profound sensation in this city and was immediately telegraphed to all the leading cities of the south.

The death of Mr. Davis had been expected at any time within the last month. Four weeks ago, while traveling on a river steamer, he caught cold and his condition became so serious that his physicians refused to allow him to return to his home in Mississippi.

Mrs. Davis was sent for and immediately joined her husband, and remained with him constantly until the end. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were as devoted to each other as when, in their younger years they eloped to be married. Mr. Davis had been getting steadily better, and was much improved, so the physicians thought. All day yesterday the favorable symptoms continued, and late in the afternoon, as late as 4 o'clock, Mrs. Davis sent such a cheering message to Mrs. Stamps, and Mr. and Mrs. Fenner that they decided, for the first time since Mr. Davis has been sick, to attend the French opera.

At 6 o'clock last evening, without any assignable cause, Mr. Davis was seized with a congestive chill, which seemed to absolutely crush the vitality out of his already enfeebled body. So weak was Mr. Davis that the violence of the assault soon subsided for lack of vitality upon which to prey. From that moment to his death the history of his case was that of a gradual sinking.

At 7 o'clock Mrs. Davis administered some medicine, but the ex-president declined to receive the whole dose. She urged upon him the necessity of taking the remainder, but putting it aside with the gentlest of gestures, he whispered, "Pray excuse me."

These were his last words. Gradually he grew weaker and weaker, but never for an instant seemed to lose consciousness. Lying peacefully upon his bed and without a trace of pain in his look he remainad for hours. Silently clasping and tenderly caressing his wife's hand, with undaunted spirit, he awaited the end. From the moment of the dread assault of the congestive chill those gathered about the bedside, who had been watching and noting with painful interest every change of symptom for the last month, knew well that the dread messenger was at the door.

About half past 10 o'clock Associate Justice Fenner went to the French opera house to call to Mr. Davis' bedside Mr. and Mrs. Farrar, and Mrs. Stamps. As soon as the message reached them they hurried to the bedside of the dying ex-president.

By 11:30 there were assembled in the death chamber of Mr. Davis, Drs. Chaillent and Bickhan, Associate Justice and Mrs. Fenner, Miss Nannie Smith, grand-niece of the dying ex-president; and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Farrar. Finding that Mr. Davis was breathing somewhat heavily, as he lay upon his back, the doctors assisted him to turn upon his right side with his cheek resting upon his right hand like a sleeping infant, and with his left hand dropping across his chin.

He lay for some fifteen minutes breathing faintly. More and more feebly became his respiration till they passed into silence and then the watchers knew that the silver cord had been loosed and the golden bowl broken. The father of the confederacy had passed away as calmly as to a night's repose, or flowers at set of sun.

Despite the fact that the end had come slowly and peacefully, and after she had been face to face for hours within the dread reality, the blow fell with crushing force upon the afflicted widow. As long as there had been work for either head or hands she had borne up bravely, and not until the sweet uses for her tender ministrations were lost, did she seem to realize the terrible force of the blow that had fallen upon her.

Knowing of a predisposition to heart affection, the doctors were at once gravely alarmed for her. They promptly administered a composing draught and at a late hour this morning she was resting quietly.

It is believed that the foundation of the ex-president's last illness was malaria, complicated with acute bronchitis. Careful nursing and skilled medical attendance had mastered the latter, but it is supposed the congestive chill, which was the immediate cause of death, was attributed to a return of the malaria.

After death the face of the deceased, though looking slightly emaciated, showed no trace of suffering, more nearly resembling that of a peaceful sleeper than of the dead.

Messages have been received from Atlanta, Billeaux, Memphis, Louisville and many other points, all expressive of respect for the dead confederate and of sympathy for Mrs. Davis in her affliction.

The remains will probably lie in state at the city hall previous to their removal to Mississippi for burial.

The general sentiment among the ex-confederates is that the obsequies of Mr. Davis should be the most imposing ever witnessed in the south and it is believed the ex-soldiers at the funeral will be numbered by thousands.

The illness of Mr. Davis had been watched with deep anxiety here, and arrangements had been made to announce his death by the ringing of the fire bells. Word was, therefore, telephoned to the central station at 12:50 this morning, and in a few minutes the mournful notes of the bells conveyed intelligence of the death to the city. Many people at once gathered at the hotels, and at 3 o'clock hundreds were discussing the event.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Dec. 8.—Mrs. M. H. D. Hayes, of Colorado Springs, daughter of Jefferson Davis, accompanied by her husband and little son, arrived here last night on the way to New Orleans having been summoned by a telegram announcing her father's critical condition. The party will be taken to New Orleans on a special train. Mrs. Hayes is greatly prostrated over the news of her father's death.

DR. T B. HARVEY.

The Sudden Death of a Prominent Physician.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 6.—One of the oldest and best known physicians of this city, a man who stood at the head of his profession in the state, has passed away. Dr. Thomas B. Harvey died at 7:45 last evening, at his home, 302 North Delaware street, of rupture of a blood vessel in the brain. His death was altogether unexpected, and therefore a great shock to his family and a wide circle of friends. He was stricken down about 2:30 o'clock while lecturing before the students of the Medical college of Indiana, of which he was professor of surgical and clinical diseases of women, as well as dean of the faculty. Dr. Harvey was a man of national reputation.

TIRED OF TRAMPING.

Several months ago the son of Mr. Henry Hille, a boy about about fifteen years old, left the city, with some other companions, for a tramp of the country. Without money the boys, tramp-like, visited many cities and towns in the east and west, and landed the first of this week at Toledo.

In some way, Mr. Hille heard his son was in Toledo and immediately left for that city to bring him home. But the boy was ahead of him, and probably tired of tramp life, reached home yesterday afternoon, while the father was looking for him at Toledo.

BENEATH THE WHEELS.

A Fatal Railroad Accident at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—A fatal accident occurred at South Chicago last night, Charles Dale and A. J. Groves, switchmen in the employ of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern were engaged in their duties in switching, when they were run over by an engine. Dale was instantly killed and Groves was fatally injured.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—For Indiana—Fair; winds shifting to warmer, southerly.

Mrs. E. J. Burns, of Dunning, Ill., is visiting Mr. George Telley and wife, of 43 West Williams street.

INAUGURATED WELL!

The Opening Night of the Grand Y. M. C. A. Fair Already Bespeaks Success.

Last evening was inaugurated the Y. M. C. A. fair, which will continue ten nights at the spacious and cheerful association rooms, on Calhoun street.

This event has been anticipated with a great deal of interest, which is perfectly right, because a more legitimate and wholly pleasing method of relieving the building of its burden of debt could not be found practicable.

It was a most inviting scene that greeted the eyes of a SENTINEL reporter as he entered the emporium of interesting and beautiful sights. The gorgeous trimmings of the various booth and the contents therein, the attractiveness on every side, mingled with the inspiring strains of the First Regiment Band orchestra, was enough to impress anybody with the sociable occasion.

Ladies' Auxiliary—Articles of fancy work, the handiwork of the children of the institute for feeble minded youth. Presided over jointly by Mrs. Maguire and Mrs. Hackett; Mrs. C. L. Smith, treasurer, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Hayden and the Misses Grier. Mrs. McLachlan also dispenses refreshing draughts of cocoa from there.

Wayne Street Church—Candies of all kinds, nuts and goodies. Presided over by Miss Emma Jenkinson and assisted by young ladies of the church.

Fish Pond—Mrs. J. E. Tibbles and Mrs. Turner.

Soap Bubble—An amusement that delights everybody. Presided over by Mrs. E. T. Davis, assisted by Mrs. Hasler, Mrs. J. K. McCracken and Misses Maybaugh and Edith Yarnelle.

Third Church—Japanese ware and useful articles and also steel engravings presented by ladies of the church. Presided over by Mrs. W. D. Page, assisted by Mrs. Frank Riblet, Mrs. S. R. Taylor, Mrs. O. B. Fitch and Miss Page.

Crystal Booth—China and queensware. Presided over by Mrs. Dr. T. J. Dills, assisted by Mrs. G. K. Torrence, Mrs. J. M. Barrett, Mrs. Frank Welling, Mrs. Sam Henderson, Mrs. G. E. Bursley, Mrs. Seymour Smith, Mrs. Chas. McCulloch and Mrs. R. G. Thompson.

Home Booth of the First Presbyterian church—Home articles, useful and ornamental, including toys. Mrs. E. F. Yarnelle presides, assisted by Mrs. John Jacobs, Mrs. L. D. Keil, Mrs. E. H. McDonald, Mrs. James B. Harper, Mrs. Chas. Cromwell, Mrs. A. H. Husten and Misses Grace White, Jennie Cochrane, Mecca Hoagland and Misses Chapin and Ellison.

Flower—Mrs. Joe W. Bell, assisted by Mrs. G. W. Seavy, Mrs. A. D. Cressler and Mrs. John Evans.

Silhouette Gallery—Get your Picture Taken—Presided over by Mrs. C. M. Dawson, assisted by Mrs. P. Morganthaler, Mrs. S. R. Taylor and Misses Tibbles and Page.

Congregational—Ice cream booth, presided over by Mrs. W. E. Mossman, assisted by Mrs. C. L. Smith, Mrs. W. V. Douglass and Mrs. A. Foote.

The Eden Musee—An unusually novel exhibition of rich and interesting views of travel and other features. Tonight there will be a special attraction at this booth. Those in charge are Mrs. J. K. McCracken, Mrs. Geo. D. Crane, Mrs. Sam Henderson, Mrs. E. A. K. Hackett.

It would be an injustice to discriminate in the description of booths. They are all pretty and the goods therein are well displayed. It should be remembered that Christmas is coming, for which occasion no better opportunity will be found to procure goods to fill the stockings of the young and surprise the old than that the Y. M. C. A. fair now affords.

THE DINNERS.

There is one feature about the fair that THE SENTINEL epicure would not "swap" for all the others put together. It is the dinners. One inhalation of those oysters that are stewing and frying in the rear apartment from 11 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon is all the enticement that a person who comes within inhaling distance would require.

The dinners consisted of large, juicy bivalves, served in all imaginable ways, stewed, fried, scalloped, etc. With these oyster dinners is served plenty of wholesome side dishes. The business men especially, will find it a pleasure to patronize these dinners, as well as clerks, and others, who are within reasonable distance. The dinner feature promises to be a popular one.

The dinners are presided over by Mrs. J. W. Cromwell, chairman. She was assisted to day by Mesdames W. V. Douglass, J. H. Grier, George Bradley, W. E. McLachlan, Frank Caswell, Charles Cromwell, Seymour Smith, Pierce, Chas. D. Law, Riley, McCaskey, and Misses Elida Sturgis, and Edna and Viola Grier.

The cooking department is under the supervision of Mrs. T. H. Gould, assisted by Mesdames Capt. Hettler, Judge Chapin, J. B. Maguire.

It should be stated that the names mentioned in connection with the booths above do not comprise all the attendants, but only those who, for the most part, were present last night.

NOTES.

Good attractions to-night.

Buy your Christmas presents.

The attendance was large for a start.

The ladies have worked hard and will reap their reward.

Miss Dottie Boylan, the pianist in the First Regiment band's orchestra, is an accomplished musician.

All ladies in the First Presbyterian church are requested to contribute to their booth in the Y. M. C. A. fair.

Mrs. Dr. Caldwell is suffering with an injured arm and was unable to occupy her booth at the Y. M. C. A. fair last evening.

Mrs. Ollie Taylor will have a quartet of darkey jubilee singers in the Eden Musee at the Y. M. C. A. fair Saturday evening. It will be a rare feature that is sure to draw.

To-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, will be children's afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. fair. Miss Wilson's Kindergarten school will give an entertainment. All children in Fort Wayne invited. Admission only 5 cents.

All ladies interested in the First Presbyterian church are earnestly requested to contribute to their booth in the Y. M. C. A. fair. All fancy articles sell readily, especially shopping and party bags. Please send them in at once.

MRS. E. F. YARNELLE.

One thing must be acknowledged by everybody—the music is good. The First Regiment band and orchestra are coming to the front as a young organization, their music blending harmoniously with an expression to it that at once interests the listener. Many persons on the outside commented on this fact, say nothing of the words in praise of the music upon the inside. A person would feel amply paid by a visit to the fair for the music if nothing else,

HOW THE LAW OPERATES.

County Superintendents Not Allowed Compensation for Distributing School Books.

Another phase of the school book question, and one which will probably bring about lengthy and troublesome litigation, has appeared in Rush county. The superintendent of schools in that county recently presented his bill for work done under the new school book law, but the county commissioners were advised by their attorney not to allow any such claim. It was held that it was not right to use the funds of the county to pay the agent of a private corporation for placing its books before the people. "This is not a new point in the new school book law," said an Indianapolis lawyer yesterday, "but one that has been fully argued in the cases which have appeared in the courts. There is no question but that the law is unconstitutional on account of this feature."

The lawyer further said that the statements to the effect that teachers who refused to use the new books stood in danger of having their licenses taken from them by the county superintendent were not warranted. Such an act would be entirely without law or precedent. "The county superintendent," he continued, "has no more right to make the course of study for the county than the state superintendent has for the state. Under the old law the county superintendent had no voice in the matter further than as a member of the county board of education."

ACCORDING TO THE CODE!

Two Young Bloods Fight a Duel With Rapiers on Account of a Love Affair.

POMONCA, Cal., Dec. 6.—A duel was fought near this city Tuesday evening, in strict accordance with the code. The affair was kept secret, but notwithstanding the care exercised to keep it from the public, the facts came out.

Since October last, two prominent young men from Pomonca, Harry Lucas, formerly of Louisiana, and Herbert Priestly, both aged nineteen, have been rivals for the hand of a young lady of excellent family. They have had frequent quarrels, and recently came to blows. Finally Lucas challenged Priestly to fight with Spanish rapiers. The challenge was accepted and the two men met in the ball grounds.

Lucas, who is both wiry and quick and a practiced fencer, was quickly seen to be the better of the two. The arrangements were for three minute bouts. At the end of the second bout, when Priestley had been cut in the breast and head and twice in the shoulder, the seconds became alarmed and stopped the fight. Priestly's wounds were dressed and he was taken away from town. Lucas has also disappeared. The seconds are here and are known, but no arrests have been made. The young men are of good families and the story of the fight has caused much excitement here.

LITTLE TICKS.

The News of the Day as the Wires Bring It to Us.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Oliver L. Barbour, father of the "Barbour Reports" and numerous other law works, is dying. He is seventy-eight years of age.

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Mary Nolan living at 20 Bromley street, was shot and very seriously wounded last night by her brother, Patrick Reynolds, who has lately shown signs of insanity. Reynolds intended to shoot Mr. Nolan but Mrs. Nolan jumped between the men and received the bullet in the face. Reynolds is under arrest.

LOCAL LINES.

M. M. M. Slattery returned from Chicago last night.

Joseph Urbine, of Perry township, had a leg fractured to-day.

Mr. Mose Read has taken a position in the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway freight office.

The Bicycle club reception last evening was a crowning success over preceding social events given by the club.

Judge Heller held the bench in the superior court to-day. He heard the issues in the case of a certain property holder against the water power company for damages.

Hanged.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Dec. 6.—John Theodore Wild, otherwise known as John Greenwall, was hanged in the Raymond street jail for the murder of John Weeks, at 7:26 this morning.

The newly-decorated windows of Louis Jocquel, at 168 Calhoun street, attracted the attention of a SENTINEL reporter to-day. They had just been dressed with dolls of all sizes. Inside there were more dolls. Wax dolls, bisque dolls and china dolls—all pretty—laid around in utmost confusion. Mr. Jocquel said that in addition to his large toy business he would make a specialty of dolls, so anybody purchasing Christmas presents for the little ones should bear this in mind. His store is loaded down with presents for Christmas from a Christmas card to a boy's wheelbarrow, or something nice for older ones. He is sure to treat you courteously, so don't miss his place when out in search of presents. Every purchaser of twenty-five cents worth of goods will get a chance in the drawing of a large doll, the handsomest ever shown in the city.

THE DAVIDSON TRAGEDY.

The arrival in this city of James Davidson, of Colburn, Ind., with his wife and son-in-law, Isaac Tilford, of Bloomington, Ill., brings to light other facts in the bloody Davidson tragedy at Butler, Ind., a few days ago. They attended the funeral and came to this city to visit Mrs. Alexander Henderson, a sister of the deceased.

Mr. Davidson is father of the late engineer. He is employed as engineer in the Wabash pumping house at Colburn. He says that his son and wife have not been getting along well, and even when they lived in this city there was occasional dissension. While Davidson was of a jealous disposition his wife tantalized him beyond endurance, going so far as to boast to him of going out in the company of others. At the time of the tragedy the woman was pulling up a carpet, threatening to leave him. Several times the man told her to be careful, but she with persistency continued.

Finally Davidson became engraged, whipped out his revolver, and pulled the trigger. The bullet struck a metallic surface and entered the left arm, where the lead is still imbedded. The frightened wife attempted to escape when she tripped on the carpet she had pulled up, at the same moment that her husband fired the fatal shot, which bullet passed over her head. Davidson, thinking that he had killed his wife, sent two bullets into his own body and died instantly.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, and the latter's mother occupied one of the finest residences in Butler.

The property was deeded to the wife, who soon after instituted divorce proceedings in the DeKalb county court, where the case remains unheard.

This property, with an insurance of $3,000 in the engineers' brotherhood and $2,000 in the I. O. O. F. goes to the widow of this most popular railroad man, whose unexpected tragic death came like a thunderbolt to his hundreds of friends in this city, as well as along the Wabash line and the town in which he resided.

A DESERVED COMPLIMENT.

C. A. Cour, a Former Fort Wayne Boy Down at Dallas, Texas.

Mr. C. A. Cour, a former Fort Wayne boy, now at Dallas, Texas, was paid a splendid compliment to his excellent qualities, recently. A Dallas paper speaks of him in this manner.

"Yesterday a large delegation of the exhibitors at the state fair called upon Mr. C. A. Cour, secretary of the fair association, and conducting him to machinery hall, presented him with a fine phæton. This was to show their appreciation of his untiring energies and uniform courtesy in giving personal attention to the interests of every exhibitor when called upon.

"The general public concur heartily with the exhibitors in this expression of esteem. Although besieged indiscriminately by the thousands for information of some sort or other, he was always pleasant and agreeable, never displaying a ruffled demeanor, and the business of his office was dispatched with the most painstaking care and exactness.

"The ordinary run of men, under similar circumstances, would have dropped out of the ring the first or second round."

FRIDAY, DEC. 6, 1889.

CONGRESS will probably do but little business of importance before the holiday vacation.

BRAZIL is larger than the United States, not including Alaska. But the United States is the older by 113 republican years.

THE fair now in progress at the City Y. M. C. A. building for the benefit of that organization is one that calls for liberal patronage from our citizens. The object of the association is to save our young men and make them respected, honorable, God-serving citizens. Can there be a nobler motive? Put in your dimes and dollars, citizens of Fort Wayne, and help the grand cause along.

IT DON'T PROTECT.

A little summary for the year ending November 1, '89, issued by the New York reform club, is rather demoralizing to the republican theory that "high tariff insures high wages and steady work."

Of the 226 important strikes since the election of Tradeboomer Harrison, 199 were in protected industries, and were caused in almost every case by a reduction of wages. They included silk workers, "protected" by a tariff of 50 per cent; coal miners, "protected" by a tariff of 75 cents a ton; steel rail workers, "protected" to the extent of $17 a ton; copper miners, carpet weavers, wire drawers, cigarmakers, thread spinners, and nearly every other class of labor in highly protected industries.

PENNY POSTAGE.

The postmaster-general's report contains some veey interesting statistics, and none more so than those showing the rapid increase of business and the extension of postal privileges. With this, however, in a general way, the people are already familiar. It is in the recommendations and suggestions that the development of the system in the future is most clearly suggested.

Among the recommendations urged are the adoption of a marine postoffice system similar to the railway system, free delivery for towns of not less than $5,000 population, postal savings banks and limited telegraph service, and penny postage as soon as possible.

As to penny postage it is not probable it will be delayed more than a year or two at most, as by that time, with wise management, the system will be self-sustaining and the increased and impressing volume of business will fully justify it. For the present the new postal-card, soon to be issued, which is to be practically a letter postal-card, will be the nearest approach to penny postage.

Postal savings banks and limited telegraph service will perhaps be longer coming, but that they will eventually become a part of the postal system everything indicates.

WINDOM'S SILVER POLICY.

The report of the secretary of the treasury is profuse. Like the president's message, it is fertile in suggestions of how to spend the people's money, in order that the accumulation of surplus, resulting from the continuation of war taxes in time of peace, may not be embarrassing. Of course he suggests a reduction of that taxation. He would relieve tobacco from the internal taxes, open up free whisky under the plea of "alcohol for use in the arts," and is even kind enough to suggest, in a vague, general way, some reductions in the tariff. But when he pushes the pension list up to the startling figures of $105,000,000 a year, and wants vast subsidies for an imaginary merchant marine, together with a concession in favor of boiler-plating the Atlantic coast, he practically disposes of the "surplus," and more too.

But that which the country is most interested in is his views as to the silver question. The meat of it is here given:

Issue treasury notes against deposits of silver bullion at the market price of silver when deposited, payable on demand in such quantities of silver bullion as will equal in value, at the date of presentation, the number of dollars expressed on the face of the notes at the market price of silver, or in silver dollars at the option of the holder. Repeal the compulsory feature of the present coinage act.

Stated otherwise it is this: Let the treasury receive silver bullion on deposit and issue notes for it to the amount of its market value in gold at the time of the deposit and redeem the notes at their face value in gold coin or the equivalent of that coin in silver bullion at its market value at the time when the notes are presented for redemption; or, if the holder prefers, at their face value in silver dollars. This, with the repeal of the compulsory coinage provisions of the act of February 28, 1878, would stop the injection of overvalued silver coins into our money circulation as full legal tender and remove or indefinitely postpone the danger of a collapse from the gold to the silver standard, which, as the president says, would be "disastrous to all business interests."

DEATH OF JEFF DAVIS.

Jeff Davis is dead. The rebel chieftain was a conspicuous figure in American history, and although his name will go down to future generations in obloquy, it will ever occupy a prominent place on its pages.

His earlier years were given to the service of his country on the battle field and in the civil councils of the nation, but, wedded to a false idea, he became a traitor and attempted to disrupt the Union.

His treason deserved death by the laws of all nations, but the magnanimity of the American people permitted him to live for more than a quarter of a century after the close of the war, and he died a natural death. His distinguished ability none will ever question, but he died as he had lived, an unrepentant rebel. Let history deal with him as his acts deserved.

Jeff Davis was born in Christian county, Kentucky, June 3, 1808. He was educated at Transylvania university, but left for the West Point academy where he graduated in 1828. He entered the army and followed the fortunes of a soldier until 1835 when he became a planter.

In 1845 he was elected to congress from Mississippi, but resigned in 1846 to serve as colonel of a volunteer regiment in Mexico, and was afterwards made a brigadier general.

In 1847 he was elected United States senator, and was afterward made secretary of war by President Pierce. In 1856 he again took his seat in the United States senate, and in 1861, when the war broke out, he resigned and identified himself with the great rebellion, becoming the president of the so-called "Southern Confederacy." His history since then is well known.

South Bend Tribune: "Simon Pokagon, the chief of the Pottawatomie tribe of Indians, which inhabited Northern Indiana when it was first settled by the whites, will shortly receive for distribution among the people the sum of $200,000 from the government in full settlement of all the claims of that once powerful tribe. The distribution of this sum will probably take place at Pokagon, which town was named after Chief Pokagon's grandfather, who signed the treaty with General Cass in 1826, between his tribe and the Miamis."

The Richmond Palladium says of the counterfeiter who passed bogus $10 bills in this city, and against whom several witnesses from here are testifying at Indianapolis: "Much interest is felt here in the result of the case now on trial at Indianapolis, charging Wm. Rhinehamer, of Washington, this county, with having passed counterfeit money. T. B. Scott, a merchant of this city, received a $10 bill of Walter Elliott, which proved to be counterfeit, seemed astonished that the bill should prove bad, as it had been received from Nicholsod's book store for work done, but later claims to have ascertained that the bill was given him by Will Rhinehamer. He is backed by the testimony of his father, sister, and several other parties. Numerous witnesses were introduced to impeach the veracity of the Elliotts. Rhinehamer proves by members of his own family that he was in Greensfork at the time the bill was said to have been passed. Several witnesses were examined who testified that Rhinehamer has long been suspected of being one ofgang that was engaged of passing spurious money. The trial will probably occupy to-day and to-morrow, and it is hard to conjecture what the outcome will be."

THAT EXPRESS ROBBERY.

Local Interest Surrounding the Mysterious Grand Rapids Robbery.

It is supposed from all indications that M. Toots, an express messenger for the United States express company at Grand Rapids, was "done away with" sometime last Sunday night.

There is missing from the vaults of the office, diamonds to the value of between $600 and $700.

The discovery of the robbery was made Monday morning when the office was opened.

Enough was discovered to show that the young man had been reading a book and had stepped out to a closet and from all indications he never came back. His book remained where he had put it, his shoes and socks and outer apparel hung on a chair.

A fact conclusive that the young man did not commit theft, is that he had in the big safe an amount of money belonging to himself which exceeds the value missing; and he was familiar with the lock combination.

Detectives from Chicago and Detroit are working on the case.

In the same block where the express office is situated, a large gambling house is conducted, causing suspicion to rest in that direction.

Developments will be anxiously awaited by local express people and others.

The thirty-sixth annual session of the State Teachers' association will be held at Indianapolis, December 25 to 28, inclusive, and promises to be largely attended. A splendid program has been arranged, opening with an address by the retiring president, L. H. Jones, superintendent of the Indianapolis schools, and followed by the inaugural address of the incoming president of the association, Prof. J. A. Zellar, of Lafayette. Among the other eminent speakers announced to take part are Dr. David S. Jordon, of Bloomington; Hon. H. M. LaFollette, W. N. Hartman, J. W. Denny, Prof. James Corburt and others. A number from this city will attend.

"When people suffer from pain they want to be cured, not trifled with. I want Pond's Extract, not an imitation." This was the answer made to a dealer who was trying to make a larger profit by offering a weak imitation of Pond's Extract to a customer. "I know the difference, he added; "one cures and the other disappoints."

Postmasters have no right to deliver letters through the postoffice to boys under twenty-one years of age and to girls under eighteen, except by order of parents or guardians. The law on the subject says: "All letters addressed to girls under eighteen years of age will be placed in care of parents or guardians." If this law was enforced at the postoffices throughout the country it would be hard upon young people who carry on clandestine correspondence, and there are many of them.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders or syringes because they are all irritating, do not not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

Montpelier, Laurel, New Trenton and Brookville will all have new railroad depots soon.

"STOP"—Nature Has a Cure.

EATON RAPIDS, Mich.

J. M. LOOSE RED CLOVER Co., Detroit:—Two years I was afflicted with a very severe attack of Erysipelas. After two physicians had used their treatment for several weeks and I continued growing blind, and in their diagnosis concluded that there was no earthly help or hope for me. I gave up, having tried all the remedies I knew or heard of. My neighbor, Mr. Miller, came in to see me one day, and said try Loose's Extract of Red Clover, as he had known of its working remarkable cures. I told him I had lost hope, that nothing would do me any good in the world. He insisted, and taking his hat went to the drug store and bought me one bottle and urged me to try it, which I did. Ten days afterward I sent for two more bottles, and it is wonderful how I improved. I continued using it and to-day I am better than I have been in years. No sign of erysipelas has shown itself and I heartily recommend it to suffering humanity as the greatest and best blood purifier in existence. Yours truly,
HENRY MARVIN.

Great Improvements.

It is not many years ago since people travelled on horseback or by stages; now fifty miles an hour is not fast enough for them. Formerly people wrote letters that were weeks in reaching their destination; now the telegraph flashes thought around the world. Formerly doctors bled their patients for nearly every complaint; now they use advanced science of the highest order. Prof. Austin Flint, of Bellevue college, says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century." Prof. Henry Mott, Ph. D., F. C. S., says: "By a most careful analysis I have found Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey free from adulterations or foreign substances, and it deserves to meet with great success." The well known Dr. C. W. Hutchinson, of New York, says: "I highly recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and prescribe it extensively in my practice." Rev. B. Mills, of Princeton, Iowa, says: "I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey with great benefit to my wife, who is a confirmed invalid. I know from experience it is a pure and most valuable medicine. I am also using it in the case of my son, who is threatened with consumption. I am a Presbyterian clergyman and a doctor of divinity, but I am not afraid to recommend Duffy's Malt Whiskey as the purest and most efficient tonic that I know of, and my experience is a large one."

Tri-State Building and Loan Association.

The most successful Building and Loan association ever organized in this country.

Within four months it has sold, right here in Fort Wayne, nearly half a million dollars worth of its capital stock.

Do not purchase Building and Loan stock of companies managed by men of whom you know nothing, and which have been organized by parties desirous chiefly of paying themselves fat salaries, at the expense of those who invest with them.

Keep your money at home, where you can watch it. Trust it to the care of the successful, careful business men, who, out of public spirit and for the benefit chiefly of Fort Wayne mechanics, are giving their time and their close attention to the affairs of the Tri-State; refusing any compensation for their services, except that which comes to them in the growth and devlopment of our thriving city.

PREPAID STOCK.

The Tri-State is offering a limited amount of "prepaid stock" at the present time. This stock is exceedingly profitable and is only offered for sale at times when the demands for good loans is in excess of the receipts of the company from its installment stock.

One hundred dollars of prepaid stock is sold at sixty dollars. On this $60 there is paid 6 per cent. annual interest, payable semi-annually. At the end of a few years, the profits of the company will mature your stock, and you will receive the full $100 in place of the $60 you pay in. There is no other form of investment, so profitable as this, that yields a regular income. Experience has shown that Building and Loan associations are even safer than banks. No failure of a well conducted Building and Loan association has ever occurred in the history of these institutions in this country.

Application for stock may be made to any officer or member of the association. Rooms 57 and 58, Pixley block. Open from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., and Saturday evenings until 9 o'clock.

WILL FORM A FEDERATION

The Farmers' Alliance and the Farmers' and Laborers' Union to Join Hands.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 6.—The Farmers' Alliance and the Farmers and Laborers' union, now in convention in this city, have decided upon a federation. Committees from the two associations had a secret meeting yesterday, at which the idea of consolidating was discussed at length. There were no dissenting voices when the question was put to a vote whether the Alliance would consolidate with the Farmers and Laborers' union on certain conditions. The conditions were the approval of the steps taken by the delegates of the two alliances and ratification of the compact by two-thirds of the states represented by alliances.

Mr. Powderly, on invitation of the Farmers' alliance, visited their headquarters and for a half hour held a levee. The expression on the part of the delegates about the hotel corridors is that the visit of the Knights of Labor committee at this time will be productive of good results. While the opinion is general that an amalgamation of the tillers and toilers is not looked on as a consummation that will be reached now or this year, it is thought that the time of a general union of labor will not be deferred long.

THE LOCAL BUDGET.

The monthly pay days will begin next week.

Albert Seeley has taken a position at the Jenney electric works.

W. E. Wench went to Warren to-day, in the interest of his firm.

The new foundry at the Jenney electric light works is ready for the roof.

W. S. Cooper, of the Pittsburg machine shops, has purchased a new team of horses.

Rhinesmith & Simonson's large engine will be repaired so that operations can be resumed Monday.

Engineer Johnson tested a new locomotive to-day, which was turned out of the Pittsburg shops yesterday.

The Bass works have just shipped a big punch and shears machine to the Missouri and Pacific shops in the west.

Walter Geberding has been promoted in the freight offices of the Pennsylvania company. He now holds a position in the general offices.

Night before last fifty colored miners left Clay county to go to Strawn, Tex., where the Texas and Pacific road is opening up extensive coal mines.

Dr. Kells and Capt. Robert Harrison secured about fifty new members for the Pennsylvania Mutual Insurance association at the east Pittsburg car shops yesterday.

A train containing Adam Forepaugh's show was at the east yards yesterday. From there it will go to Denver, Col., to put up for the winter, leaving two of their cars at the east yard shops for repairs.

Foreman William Knight, of the east yard car shops of the Pennsylvania company, is pushing work out rapidly. Mr. Knight has been in railroad service for nearly thirty years and is a valued man to the company.

J. B. Armack, master mechanic of the electric light works, at Davenport, Iowa, was married on Wednesday evening to Miss Gusta Muehlenbruck, the ceremony having taken place at the bride's home in this city.

President Hughart and Chief Engineer Johnson with other officials of the Grand Rapids road, came in on a special car from Grand Rapids last night and went east on the Pennsylvania road. Their destination is Pittsburg.

H. S. Stapleford, traveling agent of White's wheel works, was reported to be some better last evening. He was taken ill Thanksgiving day at Louisville and was brought home Saturday evening, since which time his condition has been quite critical.

Within the next three weeks the new corn crop will probably begin to move briskly, and if even the present rate is maintained on the basis of 20 cents per 100 pounds, Chicago to New York, handsome earnings may be looked for, as careful estimates show that it costs but 11 cents a hundred to haul grain from Chicago to New York City.

The oldest railroad president alive lives at North Brookfield, Mass., and his name is Bonum Nye. He is not, however, as many may suppose, related to "Bill" Nye, the humorist. Mr. Bonum Nye is the oldest man in Massachusetts, and has lived under every administration of the United States government. Mr. Nye is believed to be the oldest Mason in the state, and one of the oldest in the United States.

During the month of November a net gain of 1,604 was made to the membership of the Volunteer Relief Association of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, bringing the aggregate membership up to 7,232, which is about 30 per cent. of the employes on the system west of Pittsburg. The officers of the road hope that the membership will reach 9,000 by January 1, after which time an employe cannot become a member unless he passes an examination.

The general passenger agents of the different railroads throughout the country met at Detroit in August last for the purpose of formulating and adopting a code of rules relative to the transportation of dead bodies. These rules have been submitted to the state board of health and adopted by it. They will go into effect January 1, 1890, and a copy of them will be posted in the passenger stations and depots of all railroads in the state. Agents at the initial station will be held responsible for the enforcement of these rules, and must know they have been complied with before selling passage tickets or accepting any dead body for shipment.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best in the market.

W. L. GLEAVES, M. D.,
Nodaway, Mo.

A SEVERE COLD.

I had a severe cold for over two months and thought I would try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I commenced taking it last Friday night, and to-day, Wednesday, I am cured of my cold. I can truly say it has no equal.

W. H. KINCAID, Postmaster,
Baden, Kan.

COUGHS.

Having had the occasion to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy it gives me pleasure to state that I found it to be one of the best medicines for a cough I ever used. In fact I was cured of a cough that baffled all other cough medicines but Chamberlain's.

Harrison's Message.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—Alfred C. Brackebush, a coal dealer, having an office in Temple court, made an assignment to-day to Paul Bletchford. Assets $10,000 and liabilities $30,000.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

A Lady of Texas Writes:

My case is of long standing; has baffled many physicians; have tried every remedy I could hear of, but Bradfield's Female Regulator is all that relieved me. Write The Bradfield Reg. Co., Atlanta, Ga., for further particulars. Sold by all druggists.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to take. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

See "Zig-Zag" to-night.

Secure seats for "Zig-Zag."

"Zig-Zag" flashes of merriment will light the mental sky at the Temple to-night. The piece was seen here last season, but it has been greatly improved since then and now presents an entirely new picture. Among the company are several shining lights and together with the charming costumes a person is sure to be fascinated.

Joseph Murphy will open his annual engagement at the Temple, Monday next, in "Shaun Rhue," which is a clever piece of dramatic work, with interminglied humor and pathos, and is given a beautiful interpretation by Mr. Murphy and his excellent company. Murphy is very popular with all classes and more particularly with the Irish, who will turn out en masse Monday evening.

Lincoln Wagenhals, a nephew of the Rev. Samuel Wagenhals, of the English Lutheran church in this city, is one of the members of Kiralfy's magnificent spectacular production "Legardere," which come to the Temple, Wednesday, December 11. Young Wagenhals comes to us with laurels, fresh from recent triumph in the east and his appearance with this company assures the public a good production.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

FRUIT HOUSE.

THE GREAT KIRMESS.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

The first presentation of the kirmess has been seen, and a delighted audience has declared it a grand success. The performance was equal in every way to any that could have been given by professional people. There were no tedious waits, no balks, nor hitches, the whole arrangement working as smoothly as if it were the fiftieth appearance of the participants before the foot lights, and not the first, as it was. From the time the curtain rose, at 8:30 o'clock, until it went down on the last dance at 10:35 o'clock, there was nothing to mar the graceful sailing of what reasonably may have been an unmanageable craft.

The house was one that might have well excited the best endeavors, for it was elaborate in many way. All four of the proscenium boxes were filled, there was not a vacant seat in the parquette or dress circle, a row of chairs in the rear of the latter had been taken before the curtain went in, and a hundred or more gentlemen, the majority of them in evening dress, stood about and watched the brilliant show on the stage and the gay assemblage that viewed it.

JEFF DAVIS IS DEAD!

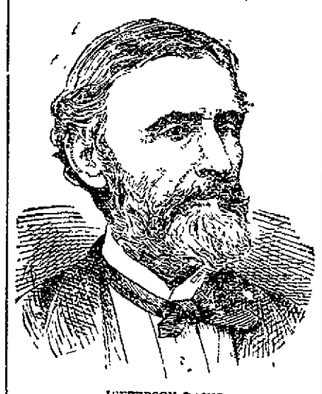

The Rebel Chieftain Breathes His Last at Midnight in the City of New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 6.—Jefferson Davis, the ex-president of the Southern Confederacy, died at 12:45 o'clock this morning.

The announcement of the event created a profound sensation in this city and was immediately telegraphed to all the leading cities of the south.

The death of Mr. Davis had been expected at any time within the last month. Four weeks ago, while traveling on a river steamer, he caught cold and his condition became so serious that his physicians refused to allow him to return to his home in Mississippi.

Mrs. Davis was sent for and immediately joined her husband, and remained with him constantly until the end. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were as devoted to each other as when, in their younger years they eloped to be married. Mr. Davis had been getting steadily better, and was much improved, so the physicians thought. All day yesterday the favorable symptoms continued, and late in the afternoon, as late as 4 o'clock, Mrs. Davis sent such a cheering message to Mrs. Stamps, and Mr. and Mrs. Fenner that they decided, for the first time since Mr. Davis has been sick, to attend the French opera.

At 6 o'clock last evening, without any assignable cause, Mr. Davis was seized with a congestive chill, which seemed to absolutely crush the vitality out of his already enfeebled body. So weak was Mr. Davis that the violence of the assault soon subsided for lack of vitality upon which to prey. From that moment to his death the history of his case was that of a gradual sinking.

At 7 o'clock Mrs. Davis administered some medicine, but the ex-president declined to receive the whole dose. She urged upon him the necessity of taking the remainder, but putting it aside with the gentlest of gestures, he whispered, "Pray excuse me."

These were his last words. Gradually he grew weaker and weaker, but never for an instant seemed to lose consciousness. Lying peacefully upon his bed and without a trace of pain in his look he remained for hours. Silently clasping and tenderly caressing his wife's hand, with undaunted spirit, he awaited the end. From the moment of the dread assault of the congestive chill those gathered about the bedside, who had been watching and noting with painful interest every change of symptom for the last month, knew well that the dread messenger was at the door.

About half past 10 o'clock Associate Justice Fenner went to the French opera house to call to Mr. Davis' bedside Mr. and Mrs. Farrar, and Mrs. Stamps. As soon as the message reached them they hurried to the bedside of the dying ex-president.

By 11:30 there were assembled in the death chamber of Mr. Davis, Drs. Chaillent and Bickham, Associate Justice and Mrs. Fenner, Miss Nannie Smith, grand-niece of the dying ex-president; and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Farrar. Finding that Mr. Davis was breathing somewhat heavily, as he lay upon his back, the doctors assisted him to turn upon his right side with his cheek resting upon his right hand like a sleeping infant, and with his left hand dropping across his chin.

He lay for some fifteen minutes breathing faintly. More and more feebly became his respiration till they passed into silence and then the watchers knew that the silver cord had been loosed and the golden bowl broken. The father of the confederacy had passed away as calmly as to a night's repose, or flowers at set of sun.

Despite the fact that the end had come slowly and peacefully, and after she had been face to face for hours within the dread reality, the blow fell with crushing force upon the afflicted widow. As long as there had been work for either head or hands she had borne up bravely, and not until the sweet uses for her tender ministrations were lost, did she seem to realize the terrible force of the blow that had fallen upon her.

Knowing of a predisposition to heart affection, the doctors were at once gravely alarmed for her. They promptly administered a composing draught and at a late hour this morning she was resting quietly.

It is believed that the foundation of the ex-president's last illness was malaria, complicated with acute bronchitis. Careful nursing and skilled medical attendance had mastered the latter, but it is supposed the congestive chill, which was the immediate cause of death, was attributed to a return of the malaria.

After death the face of the deceased, though looking slightly emaciated, showed no trace of suffering, more nearly resembling that of a peaceful sleeper than of the dead.

Messages have been received from Atlanta, Billeaux, Memphis, Louisville and many other points, all expressive of respect for the dead confederate and of sympathy for Mrs. Davis in her affliction.

The remains will probably lie in state at the city hall previous to their removal to Mississippi for burial.

The general sentiment among the ex-confederates is that the obsequies of Mr. Davis should be the most imposing ever witnessed in the south and it is believed the ex-soldiers at the funeral will be numbered by thousands.

The illness of Mr. Davis had been watched with deep anxiety here, and arrangements had been made to announce his death by the ringing of the fire bells. Word was, therefore, telephoned to the central station at 12:50 this morning, and in a few minutes the mournful notes of the bells conveyed intelligence of the death to the city. Many people at once gathered at the hotels, and at 3 o'clock hundreds were discussing the event.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Dec. 8.—Mrs. M. H. D. Hayes, of Colorado Springs, daughter of Jefferson Davis, accompanied by her husband and little son, arrived here last night on the way to New Orleans having been summoned by a telegram announcing her father's critical condition. The party will be taken to New Orleans on a special train. Mrs. Hayes is greatly prostrated over the news of her father's death.

The Sudden Death of a Prominent Physician.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 6.—One of the oldest and best known physicians of this city, a man who stood at the head of his profession in the state, has passed away. Dr. Thomas B. Harvey died at 7:45 last evening, at his home, 302 North Delaware street, of rupture of a blood vessel in the brain. His death was altogether unexpected, and therefore a great shock to his family and a wide circle of friends. He was stricken down about 2:30 o'clock while lecturing before the students of the Medical college of Indiana, of which he was professor of surgical and clinical diseases of women, as well as dean of the faculty. Dr. Harvey was a man of national reputation.

TIRED OF TRAMPING.

Several months ago the son of Mr. Henry Hille, a boy about about fifteen years old, left the city, with some other companions, for a tramp of the country. Without money the boys, tramp-like, visited many cities and towns in the east and west, and landed the first of this week at Toledo.

In some way, Mr. Hille heard his son was in Toledo and immediately left for that city to bring him home. But the boy was ahead of him, and probably tired of tramp life, reached home yesterday afternoon, while the father was looking for him at Toledo.

INAUGURATED WELL!

The Opening Night of the Grand Y. M. C. A. Fair Already Bespeaks Success.

Last evening was inaugurated the Y. M. C. A. fair, which will continue ten nights at the spacious and cheerful association rooms, on Calhoun street.

This event has been anticipated with a great deal of interest, which is perfectly right, because a more legitimate and wholly pleasing method of relieving the building of its burden of debt could not be found practicable.

It was a most inviting scene that greeted the eyes of a SENTINEL reporter as he entered the emporium of interesting and beautiful sights. The gorgeous trimmings of the various booth and the contents therein, the attractiveness on every side, mingled with the inspiring strains of the First Regiment Band orchestra, was enough to impress anybody with the sociable occasion.

The booths and their managers are as follows:

Ladies' Auxiliary—Articles of fancy work, the handiwork of the children of the institute for feeble minded youth. Presided over jointly by Mrs. Maguire and Mrs. Hackett; Mrs. C. L. Smith, treasurer, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Hayden and the Misses Grier. Mrs. McLachlan also dispenses refreshing draughts of cocoa from there.

Wayne Street Church—Candies of all kinds, nuts and goodies. Presided over by Miss Emma Jenkinson and assisted by young ladies of the church.

Fish Pond—Mrs. J. E. Tibbles and Mrs. Turner.

Soap Bubble—An amusement that delights everybody. Presided over by Mrs. E. T. Davis, assisted by Mrs. Hasler, Mrs. J. K. McCracken and Misses Maybaugh and Edith Yarnelle.

Third Church—Japanese ware and useful articles and also steel engravings presented by ladies of the church. Presided over by Mrs. W. D. Page, assisted by Mrs. Frank Riblet, Mrs. S. R. Taylor, Mrs. O. B. Fitch and Miss Page.

Crystal Booth—China and queensware. Presided over by Mrs. Dr. T. J. Dills, assisted by Mrs. G. K. Torrence, Mrs. J. M. Barrett, Mrs. Frank Welling, Mrs. Sam Henderson, Mrs. G. E. Bursley, Mrs. Seymour Smith, Mrs. Chas. McCulloch and Mrs. R. G. Thompson.

Home Booth of the First Presbyterian church—Home articles, useful and ornamental, including toys. Mrs. E. F. Yarnelle presides, assisted by Mrs. John Jacobs, Mrs. L. D. Keil, Mrs. E. H. McDonald, Mrs. James B. Harper, Mrs. Chas. Cromwell, Mrs. A. H. Husten and Misses Grace White, Jennie Cochrane, Mecca Hoagland and Misses Chapin and Ellison.

Flower—Mrs. Joe W. Bell, assisted by Mrs. G. W. Seavy, Mrs. A. D. Cressler and Mrs. John Evans.

Silhouette Gallery—Get your Picture Taken—Presided over by Mrs. C. M. Dawson, assisted by Mrs. P. Morganthaler, Mrs. S. R. Taylor and Misses Tibbles and Page.

Congregational—Ice cream booth, presided over by Mrs. W. E. Mossman, assisted by Mrs. C. L. Smith, Mrs. W. V. Douglass and Mrs. A. Foote.

The Eden Musee—An unusually novel exhibition of rich and interesting views of travel and other features. Tonight there will be a special attraction at this booth. Those in charge are Mrs. J. K. McCracken, Mrs. Geo. D. Crane, Mrs. Sam Henderson, Mrs. E. A. K. Hackett.

It would be an injustice to discriminate in the description of booths. They are all pretty and the goods therein are well displayed. It should be remembered that Christmas is coming, for which occasion no better opportunity will be found to procure goods to fill the stockings of the young and surprise the old than that the Y. M. C. A. fair now affords.

THE DINNERS.

There is one feature about the fair that THE SENTINEL epicure would not "swap" for all the others put together. It is the dinners. One inhalation of those oysters that are stewing and frying in the rear apartment from 11 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon is all the enticement that a person who comes within inhaling distance would require.

The dinners consisted of large, juicy bivalves, served in all imaginable ways, stewed, fried, scalloped, etc. With these oyster dinners is served plenty of wholesome side dishes. The business men especially, will find it a pleasure to patronize these dinners, as well as clerks, and others, who are within reasonable distance. The dinner feature promises to be a popular one.

The dinners are presided over by Mrs. J. W. Cromwell, chairman. She was assisted to day by Mesdames W. V. Douglass, J. H. Grier, George Bradley, W. E. McLachlan, Frank Caswell, Charles Cromwell, Seymour Smith, Pierce, Chas. D. Law, Riley, McCaskey, and Misses Elida Sturgis, and Edna and Viola Grier.

The cooking department is under the supervision of Mrs. T. H. Gould, assisted by Mesdames Capt. Hettler, Judge Chapin, J. B. Maguire.

It should be stated that the names mentioned in connection with the booths above do not comprise all the attendants, but only those who, for the most part, were present last night.

NOTES.

Good attractions to-night.

Buy your Christmas presents.

The attendance was large for a start.

The ladies have worked hard and will reap their reward.

Miss Dottie Boylan, the pianist in the First Regiment band's orchestra, is an accomplished musician.

All ladies in the First Presbyterian church are requested to contribute to their booth in the Y. M. C. A. fair.

Mrs. Dr. Caldwell is suffering with an injured arm and was unable to occupy her booth at the Y. M. C. A. fair last evening.

Mrs. Ollie Taylor will have a quartet of darkey jubilee singers in the Eden Musee at the Y. M. C. A. fair Saturday evening. It will be a rare feature that is sure to draw.

To-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, will be children's afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. fair. Miss Wilson's Kindergarten school will give an entertainment. All children in Fort Wayne invited. Admission only 5 cents.

All ladies interested in the First Presbyterian church are earnestly requested to contribute to their booth in the Y. M. C. A. fair. All fancy articles sell readily, especially shopping and party bags. Please send them in at once.

MRS. E. F. YARNELLE.

One thing must be acknowledged by everybody—the music is good. The First Regiment band and orchestra are coming to the front as a young organization, their music blending harmoniously with an expression to it that at once interests the listener. Many persons on the outside commented on this fact, say nothing of the words in praise of the music upon the inside. A person would feel amply paid by a visit to the fair for the music if nothing else.

HOW THE LAW OPERATES.

County Superintendents Not Allowed Compensation for Distributing School Books.

Another phase of the school book question, and one which will probably bring about lengthy and troublesome litigation, has appeared in Rush county. The superintendent of schools in that county recently presented his bill for work done under the new school book law, but the county commissioners were advised by their attorney not to allow any such claim. It was held that it was not right to use the funds of the county to pay the agent of a private corporation for placing its books before the people. "This is not a new point in the new school book law," said an Indianapolis lawyer yesterday, "but one that has been fully argued in the cases which have appeared in the courts. There is no question but that the law is unconstitutional on account of this feature."

The lawyer further said that the statements to the effect that teachers who refused to use the new books stood in danger of having their licenses taken from them by the county superintendent were not warranted. Such an act would be entirely without law or precedent. "The county superintendent," he continued, "has no more right to make the course of study for the county than the state superintendent has for the state. Under the old law the county superintendent had no voice in the matter further than as a member of the county board of education."

ACCORDING TO THE CODE!

Two Young Bloods Fight a Duel With Rapiers on Account of a Love Affair.

POMONCA, Cal., Dec. 6.—A duel was fought near this city Tuesday evening, in strict accordance with the code. The affair was kept secret, but notwithstanding the care exercised to keep it from the public, the facts came out.

Since October last, two prominent young men from Pomonca, Harry Lucas, formerly of Louisiana, and Herbert Priestly, both aged nineteen, have been rivals for the hand of a young lady of excellent family. They have had frequent quarrels, and recently came to blows. Finally Lucas challenged Priestly to fight with Spanish rapiers. The challenge was accepted and the two men met in the ball grounds.

Lucas, who is both wiry and quick and a practiced fencer, was quickly seen to be the better of the two. The arrangements were for three minute bouts. At the end of the second bout, when Priestley had been cut in the breast and head and twice in the shoulder, the seconds became alarmed and stopped the fight. Priestly's wounds were dressed and he was taken away from town. Lucas has also disappeared. The seconds are here and are known, but no arrests have been made. The young men are of good families and the story of the fight has caused much excitement here.

LITTLE TICKS.

The News of the Day as the Wires Bring It to Us.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Oliver L. Barbour, father of the "Barbour Reports" and numerous other law works, is dying. He is seventy-eight years of age.

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Mary Nolan living at 20 Bromley street, was shot and very seriously wounded last night by her brother, Patrick Reynolds, who has lately shown signs of insanity. Reynolds intended to shoot Mr. Nolan but Mrs. Nolan jumped between the men and received the bullet in the face. Reynolds is under arrest.

LOCAL LINES.

M. M. M. Slattery returned from Chicago last night.

Joseph Urbine, of Perry township, had a leg fractured to-day.

Mr. Mose Read has taken a position in the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway freight office.

The Bicycle club reception last evening was a crowning success over preceding social events given by the club.

Judge Heller held the bench in the superior court to-day. He heard the issues in the case of a certain property holder against the water power company for damages.

Hanged.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Dec. 6.—John Theodore Wild, otherwise known as John Greenwall, was hanged in the Raymond street jail for the murder of John Weeks, at 7:26 this morning.

The newly-decorated windows of Louis Jocquel, at 168 Calhoun street, attracted the attention of a SENTINEL reporter to-day. They had just been dressed with dolls of all sizes. Inside there were more dolls. Wax dolls, bisque dolls and china dolls—all pretty—laid around in utmost confusion. Mr. Jocquel said that in addition to his large toy business he would make a specialty of dolls, so anybody purchasing Christmas presents for the little ones should bear this in mind. His store is loaded down with presents for Christmas from a Christmas card to a boy's wheelbarrow, or something nice for older ones. He is sure to treat you courteously, so don't miss his place when out in search of presents. Every purchaser of twenty-five cents worth of goods will get a chance in the drawing of a large doll, the handsomest ever shown in the city.

THE DAVIDSON TRAGEDY.

The arrival in this city of James Davidson, of Colburn, Ind., with his wife and son-in-law, Isaac Tilford, of Bloomington, Ill., brings to light other facts in the bloody Davidson tragedy at Butler, Ind., a few days ago. They attended the funeral and came to this city to visit Mrs. Alexander Henderson, a sister of the deceased.

Mr. Davidson is father of the late engineer. He is employed as engineer in the Wabash pumping house at Colburn. He says that his son and wife have not been getting along well, and even when they lived in this city there was occasional dissension. While Davidson was of a jealous disposition his wife tantalized him beyond endurance, going so far as to boast to him of going out in the company of others. At the time of the tragedy the woman was pulling up a carpet, threatening to leave him. Several times the man told her to be careful, but she with persistency continued.

Finally Davidson became engraged, whipped out his revolver, and pulled the trigger. The bullet struck a metallic surface and entered the left arm, where the lead is still imbedded. The frightened wife attempted to escape when she tripped on the carpet she had pulled up, at the same moment that her husband fired the fatal shot, which bullet passed over her head. Davidson, thinking that he had killed his wife, sent two bullets into his own body and died instantly.

The property was deeded to the wife, who soon after instituted divorce proceedings in the DeKalb county court, where the case remains unheard.

This property, with an insurance of $3,000 in the engineers' brotherhood and $2,000 in the I. O. O. F. goes to the widow of this most popular railroad man, whose unexpected tragic death came like a thunderbolt to his hundreds of friends in this city, as well as along the Wabash line and the town in which he resided.

A DESERVED COMPLIMENT.

C. A. Cour, a Former Fort Wayne Boy Down at Dallas, Texas.

Mr. C. A. Cour, a former Fort Wayne boy, now at Dallas, Texas, was paid a splendid compliment to his excellent qualities, recently. A Dallas paper speaks of him in this manner.

"Yesterday a large delegation of the exhibitors at the state fair called upon Mr. C. A. Cour, secretary of the fair association, and conducting him to machinery hall, presented him with a fine phæton. This was to show their appreciation of his untiring energies and uniform courtesy in giving personal attention to the interests of every exhibitor when called upon.

"The general public concur heartily with the exhibitors in this expression of esteem. Although besieged indiscriminately by the thousands for information of some sort or other, he was always pleasant and agreeable, never displaying a ruffled demeanor, and the business of his office was dispatched with the most painstaking care and exactness.

"The ordinary run of men, under similar circumstances, would have dropped out of the ring the first or second round."

JEFF DAVIS IS DEAD!

The Rebel Chieftain Breathes His Last at Midnight in the City of New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Dec. 6.—Jefferson Davis, the ex-president of the Southern Confederacy, died at 12:45 o'clock this morning.

The announcement of the event created a profound sensation in this city and was immediately telegraphed to all the leading cities of the south.

The death of Mr. Davis had been expected at any time within the last month. Four weeks ago, while traveling on a river steamer, he caught cold and his condition became so serious that his physicians refused to allow him to return to his home in Mississippi.

Mrs. Davis was sent for and immediately joined her husband, and remained with him constantly until the end. Mr. and Mrs. Davis were as devoted to each other as when, in their younger years they eloped to be married. Mr. Davis had been getting steadily better, and was much improved, so the physicians thought. All day yesterday the favorable symptoms continued, and late in the afternoon, as late as 4 o'clock, Mrs. Davis sent such a cheering message to Mrs. Stamps, and Mr. and Mrs. Fenner that they decided, for the first time since Mr. Davis has been sick, to attend the French opera.

At 6 o'clock last evening, without any assignable cause, Mr. Davis was seized with a congestive chill, which seemed to absolutely crush the vitality out of his already enfeebled body. So weak was Mr. Davis that the violence of the assault soon subsided for lack of vitality upon which to prey. From that moment to his death the history of his case was that of a gradual sinking.

At 7 o'clock Mrs. Davis administered some medicine, but the ex-president declined to receive the whole dose. She urged upon him the necessity of taking the remainder, but putting it aside with the gentlest of gestures, he whispered, "Pray excuse me."

These were his last words. Gradually he grew weaker and weaker, but never for an instant seemed to lose consciousness. Lying peacefully upon his bed and without a trace of pain in his look he remained for hours. Silently clasping and tenderly caressing his wife's hand, with undaunted spirit, he awaited the end. From the moment of the dread assault of the congestive chill those gathered about the bedside, who had been watching and noting with painful interest every change of symptom for the last month, know well that the dread messenger was at the door.

About half past 10 o'clock Associate Justice Fenner went to the French opera house to call to Mr. Davis' bedside Mr. and Mrs. Farrar, and Mrs. Stamps. As soon as the message reached them they hurried to the bedside of the dying ex-president.

By 11:30 there were assembled in the death chamber of Mr. Davis, Drs. Chaillont and Bickham, Associate Justice and Mrs. Fenner, Miss Nannie Smith, grand-niece of the dying ex-president; and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Farrar. Finding that Mr. Davis was breathing somewhat heavily, as he lay upon his back, the doctors assisted him to turn upon his right side with his cheek resting upon his right hand like a sleeping infant, and with his left hand dropping across his chin.

He lay for some fifteen minutes breathing faintly. More and more feebly became his respiration till they passed into silence and then the watchers knew that the silver cord had been loosed and the golden bowl broken. The father of the confederacy had passed away as calmly as to a night's repose, or flowers at set of sun.

Despite the fact that the end had come slowly and peacefully, and after she had been face to face for hours within the dread reality, the blow fell with crushing force upon the afflicted widow. As long as there had been work for either head or hands she had borne up bravely, and not until the sweet uses for her tender ministrations were lost, did she seem to realize the terrible force of the blow that had fallen upon her.

Knowing of a predisposition to heart affection, the doctors were at once gravely alarmed for her. They promptly administered a composing draught and at a late hour this morning she was resting quietly.

It is believed that the foundation of the ex-president's last illness was malaria, complicated with acute bronchitis. Careful nursing and skilled medical attendance had mastered the latter, but it is supposed the congestive chill, which was the immediate cause of death, was attributed to a return of the malaria.

After death the face of the deceased, though looking slightly emaciated, showed no trace of suffering, more nearly resembling that of a peaceful sleeper than of the dead.

Messages have been received from Atlanta, Biloxnx, Memphis, Louisville and many other points, all expressive of respect for the dead confederate and of sympathy for Mrs. Davis in her affliction.

The remains will probably lie in state at the city hall previous to their removal to Mississippi for burial.

The general sentiment among the ex-confederates is that the obsequies of Mr. Davis should be the most imposing ever witnessed in the south and it is believed the ex-soldiers at the funeral will be numbered by thousands.

The illness of Mr. Davis had been watched with deep anxiety here, and arrangements had been made to announce his death by the ringing of the fire bells. Word was, therefore, telephoned to the central station at 12:50 this morning, and in a few minutes the mournful notes of the bells conveyed intelligence of the death to the city. Many people at once gathered at the hotels, and at 3 o'clock hundreds were discussing the event.

FORT WORTH, TEX., Dec. 8.—Mrs. M. H. D. Hayes, of Colorado Springs, daughter of Jefferson Davis, accompanied by her husband and little son, arrived here last night on the way to New Orleans having been summoned by a telegram announcing her father's critical condition. The party will be taken to New Orleans on a special train. Mrs. Hayes is greatly prostrated over the news of her father's death.

DR. T. B. HARVEY.

The Sudden Death of a Prominent Physician.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 6.—One of the oldest and best known physicians of this city, a man who stood at the head of his profession in the state, has passed away, Dr. Thomas B. Harvey died at 7:45 last evening, at his home, 302 North Delaware street, of rupture of a blood vessel in the brain. His death was altogether unexpected, and therefore a great shock to his family and a wide circle of friends. He was stricken down about 2:30 o'clock while lecturing before the students of the Medical college of Indiana, of which he was professor of surgical and clinical diseases of women, as well as dean of the faculty. Dr. Harvey was a man of national reputation.

TIRED OF TRAMPING.

Several months ago the son of Mr. Henry Hille, a boy about about fifteen years old, left the city, with some other companions, for a tramp of the country. Without money the boys, tramp-like, visited many cities and towns in the east and west, and landed the first of this week at Toledo.

In some way, Mr. Hille heard his son was in Toledo and immediately left for that city to bring him home. But the boy was ahead of him, and probably tired of tramp life, reached home yesterday afternoon, while the father was looking for him at Toledo.

BENEATH THE WHEELS.

A Fatal Railroad Accident at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—A fatal accident occurred at South Chicago last night. Charles Dale and A. J. Groves, switchmen in the employ of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern were engaged in their duties in switching, when they were run over by an engine. Dale was instantly killed and Groves was fatally injured.

INAUGURATED WELL!

The Opening Night of the Grand Y. M. C. A. Fair Already Responds Success.

Last evening was inaugurated the Y. M. C. A. fair, which will continue on nights at the spacious and cheerful association rooms, on Calhoun street.

This event has been anticipated with a great deal of interest, which is perfectly right, because a more legitimate and wholly pleasing method of relieving the building of its burden of debt could not be found practicable.

It was a most inviting scene that greeted the eyes of a SENTINEL reporter as he entered the emporium of interesting and beautiful sights. The gorgeous trimmings of the various booth and the contents therein, the attractiveness on every side, mingled with the inspiring strains of the First Regiment Band orchestra, was enough to impress anybody with the sociable occasion.

The booths and their managers are as follows:

Ladies' Auxiliary—Articles of fancy work, the handiwork of the children of the institute for feeble minded youth. Presided over jointly by Mrs. Maguire and Mrs. Hackett; Mrs. O. L. Smith, treasurer, assisted by Mrs. J. W. Hayden and the Misses Grier. Mrs. McLachlan also dispenses refreshing draughts of cocoa from there.

Wayne Street Church—Candies of all kinds, nuts and goodies. Presided over by Miss Emma Jenkinson and assisted by young ladies of the church.

Fish Pond—Mrs. J. E. Tibbles and Mrs. Turner.

Soap Bubble—An amusement that delights everybody. Presided over by Mrs. E. T. Davis, assisted by Mrs. Hasler, Mrs. J. K. McCracken and Misses Maybaugh and Edith Yarnelle.

Third Church—Japanese ware and useful articles and also steel engravings presented by ladies of the church. Presided over by Mrs. W. D. Page, assisted by Mrs. Frank Riblet, Mrs. S. B. Taylor, Mrs. O. B. Pitch and Miss Page.

Crystal Booth—China and queensware. Presided over by Mrs. Dr. T. J. Dills, assisted by Mrs. G. K. Torrence, Mrs. J. M. Barratt, Mrs. Frank Welling, Mrs. Sam Henderson, Mrs. G. E. Bursley, Mrs. Seymour Smith, Mrs. Chas. McCulloch and Mrs. R. G. Thompson.

Home Booth of the First Presbyterian church—Home articles, useful and ornamental, including toys. Mrs. E. F. Yarnelle presides, assisted by Mrs. John Jacobs, Mrs. L. D. Keil, Mrs. E. H. McDonald, Mrs. James B. Harper, Mrs. Chas. Cromwell, Mrs. A. H. Hunten and Misses Grace White, Jennie Cochrane, Maeca Haugland and Misses Chapin and Ellison.

Flower—Mrs. Jos W. Bell, assisted by Mrs. G. W. Seavy, Mrs. A. D. Crossler and Mrs. John Evans.

Lemonade—Presided over by Mrs. Rev. Van Slyke, Mrs. McLachlan, and Misses Edith Brown, Maud Wilkinson, Lulu Van Slyke and Gene Mc Lachlan.

Silhouette Gallery—Get your Picture Taken—Presided over by Mrs. C. M. Dawson, assisted by Mrs. P. Morgenthaler, Mrs. S. R. Taylor and Misses Tibbles and Page.

Congregational—Ice cream booth, presided over by Mrs. W. E. Mossman, assisted by Mrs. C. L. Smith, Mrs. W. V. Douglass and Mrs. A. Foote.

The Eden Musee—An unusually novel exhibition of rich and interesting views of travel and other features. To-night there will be a special attraction at this booth. Those in charge are Mrs. J. E. McCracken, Mrs. Geo. D. Crane, Mrs. Sam Henderson, Mrs. E. A. K. Hackett.

It would be an injustice to discriminate in the description of booths. They are all pretty and the goods therein are well displayed. It should be remembered that Christmas is coming, for which occasion no better opportunity will be found to procure goods to fill the stockings of the young and surprise the old than that the Y. M. C. A. fair now affords.

THE DINNERS.

There is one feature about the fair that THE SENTINEL picture would not "swap" for all the others put together. It is the dinners. One inhalation of those oysters that are stewing and frying in the rear apartment from 11 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon is all the enticement that a person who comes within inhaling distance would require.

The dinners consisted of large, juicy bivalves, served in all imaginable ways, stewed, fried, scalloped, etc. With these oyster dinners is served plenty of wholesome side dishes. The business men especially, will find it a pleasure to patronize these dinners, as well as clerks, and others, who are within reasonable distance. The dinner feature promises to be a popular one.

The dinners are presided over by Mrs. J. W. Cromwell, chairman. She was assisted to day by Mesdames W. V. Douglass, J. H. Grier, George Bradley, W. E. McLachlan, Frank Caswell, Charles Cromwell, Seymour Smith, Pierce, Chas. D. Law, Riley, McCaskey, and Misses Elida Stargis, and Edna and Viola Grier.

The cooking department is under the supervision of Mrs. T. H. Gould, assisted by Mesdames Capt. Hettler, Judge Chapin, J. B. Magnire.

It should be stated that the names mentioned in connection with the booths above do not comprise all the attendants, but only those who, for the most part, were present last night.

NOTES.

Good attractions to-night.

Buy your Christmas presents.

The attendance was large for a start.

The ladies have worked hard and will reap their reward.

Miss Dottie Boylan, the pianist in the First Regiment band's orchestra, is an accomplished musician.

All ladies in the First Presbyterian church are requested to contribute to their booth in the Y. M. C. A. fair.

Mrs. Dr. Caldwell is suffering with an injured arm and was unable to occupy her booth at the Y. M. C. A. fair last evening.

Mrs. Ollie Taylor will have a quartet of darkey jubilee singers in the Eden Musee at the Y. M. C. A. fair Saturday evening. It will be a rare feature that is sure to draw.

To-morrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock, will be children's afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. fair. Miss Wilson's Kindergarten school will give an entertainment. All children in Fort Wayne invited. Admission only 5 cents.

All ladies interested in the First Presbyterian church are earnestly requested to contribute to their booth in the Y. M. C. A. fair. All fancy articles sell readily, especially shopping and party bags. Please send them in at once.

MRS. E. F. YARNELLE.

One thing must be acknowledged by everybody—the music is good. The First Regiment band and orchestra are coming to the front as a young organization, their music blending harmoniously with an expression to it that at once interests the listener. Many persons on the outside commented on this fact, say nothing of the words in praise of the music upon the inside. A person would feel amply paid by a visit to the fair for the music if nothing else.

HOW THE LAW OPERATES.

County Superintendents Not Allowed Compensation for Distributing School Books.

Another phase of the school book question, and one which will probably bring about lengthy and troublesome litigation, has appeared in Bush county. The superintendent of schools in that county recently presented his bill for work done under the new school book law, but the county commissioners were advised by their attorney not to allow any such claim. It was held that it was not right to use the funds of the county to pay the agent of a private corporation for placing its books before the people. "This is not a new point in the new school book law," said an Indianapolis lawyer yesterday, "but one that has been fully argued in the cases which have appeared in the courts. There is no question but that the law is unconstitutional on account of this feature."

The lawyer further said that the statements to the effect that teachers who refused to use the new books stood in danger of having their licenses taken from them by the county superintendent were not warranted. Such an act would be entirely without law or precedent. "The county superintendent," he continued, "has no more right to make the course of study for the county than the state superintendent has for the state. Under the old law the county superintendent had no voice in the matter further than as a member of the county board of education."

ACCORDING TO THE CODE!

Two Young Bloods Fight a Duel With Rapiers on Account of a Love Affair.

POMONA, Cal., Dec. 6.—A duel was fought near this city Tuesday evening, in strict accordance with the code. The affair was kept secret, but notwithstanding the care exercised to keep it from the public, the facts came out.

Since October last, two prominent young men from Pomona, Harry Lucas, formerly of Louisiana, and Herbert Priestly, both aged nineteen, have been rivals for the hand of a young lady of excellent family. They have had frequent quarrels, and recently came to blows. Finally Lucas challenged Priestly to fight with Spanish rapiers. The challenge was accepted and the two men met in the ball grounds.

Lucas, who is both wiry and quick and a practiced fencer, was quickly seen to be the better of the two. The arrangements were for three minute bouts. At the end of the second bout, when Priestley had been cut in the breast and head and twice in the shoulder, the seconds became alarmed and stopped the fight. Priestly's wounds were dressed and he was taken away from town. Lucas has also disappeared. The seconds are here and are known, but no arrests have been made. The young men are of good families and the story of the fight has caused much excitement here.

LITTLE TICKS.

The News of the Day as the Wires Bring It to Us.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Dec. 6.—Oliver L. Barbour, father of the "Barbour Reports" and numerous other law works, is dying. He is seventy-eight years of age.

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Mary Nolan living at 20 Bromley street, was shot and very seriously wounded last night by her brother, Patrick Reynolds, who has lately shown signs of insanity. Reynolds intended to shoot Mr. Nolan but Mrs. Nolan jumped between the men and received the bullet in the face. Reynolds is under arrest.

LOCAL LINES.

M. M. M. Slattery returned from Chicago last night.

Joseph Urbine, of Perry township, had a leg fractured to-day.

Mr. Mose Read has taken a position in the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railway freight office.

The Bicycle club reception last evening was a crowning success over preceding social events given by the club.

Judge Heller held the bench in the superior court to-day. He heard the issues in the case of a certain property holder against the water power company for damages.

Hanged.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Dec. 6.—John Theodore Wild, otherwise known as John Greenwall, was hanged in the Raymond street jail for the murder of John Weeks, at 7:26 this morning.

The newly-decorated windows of Louis Jocquel, at 168 Calhoun street, attracted the attention of a SENTINEL reporter to-day. They had just been dressed with dolls of all sizes. Inside there were more dolls. Wax dolls, bisque dolls and china dolls—all pretty—laid around in utmost confusion. Mr. Jocquel said that in addition to his large toy business he would make a specialty of dolls, so anybody purchasing Christmas presents for the little ones should bear this in mind. His store is loaded down with presents for Christmas from a Christmas card to a boy's wheelbarrow, or something nice for older ones. He is sure to treat you courteously, so don't miss his place when out in search of presents. Every purchaser of twenty-five cents worth of goods will get a chance in the drawing of a large doll, the handsomest ever shown in the city.

THE DAVIDSON TRAGEDY.

The arrival in this city of James Davidson, of Colburn, Ind., with his wife and son-in-law, Isaac Tilford, of Bloomington, Ill., brings to light other facts in the bloody Davidson tragedy at Butler, Ind., a few days ago. They attended the funeral and came to this city to visit Mrs. Alexander Henderson, a sister of the deceased.

Mr. Davidson is father of the late engineer. He is employed as engineer in the Wabash pumping house at Colburn. He says that his son and wife have not been getting along well, and even when they lived in this city there was occasional dissension. While Davidson was of a jealous disposition his wife tantalized him beyond endurance, going so far as to boast to him of going out in the company of others. At the time of the tragedy the woman was pulling up a carpet, threatening to leave him. Several times the man told her to be careful, but she with persistency continued.

Finally Davidson became engraged, whipped out his revolver, and pulled the trigger. The bullet struck a metallic surface and entered the left arm, where the lead is still imbedded. The frightened wife attempted to escape when she tripped on the carpet she had pulled up, at the same moment that her husband fired the fatal shot, which bullet passed over her head. Davidson, thinking that he had killed his wife, sent two bullets into his own body and died instantly.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, and the latter's mother occupied one of the finest residences in Butler.

The property was deeded to the wife, who soon after instituted divorce proceedings in the DeKalb county court, where the case remains unheard.

This property, with an insurance of $3,000 in the engineers' brotherhood and $2,000 in the I. O. O. F. goes to the widow of this most popular railroad man, whose unexpected tragic death came like a thunderbolt to his hundreds of friends in this city, as well as along the Wabash line and the town in which he resided.

A DESERVED COMPLIMENT.

C. A. Cour, a Former Fort Wayne Boy Down at Dallas, Texas.

Mr. C. A. Cour, a former Fort Wayne boy, now at Dallas, Texas, was paid a splendid compliment to his excellent qualities, recently. A Dallas paper speaks of him in this manner.

"Yesterday a large delegation of the exhibitors at the state fair called upon Mr. C. A. Cour, secretary of the fair association, and conducting him to machinery hall, presented him with a fine phaeton. This was to show their appreciation of his untiring energies and uniform courtesy in giving personal attention to the interests of every exhibitor when called upon.

"The general public concur heartily with the exhibitors in this expression of esteem. Although besieged indiscriminately by the thousands for information of some sort or other, he was always pleasant and agreeable, never displaying a ruffled demeanor, and the business of his office was dispatched with the most painstaking care and exactness.

"The ordinary run of men, under similar circumstances, would have dropped out of the ring the first or second round."

FRIDAY, DEC. 6, 1889.

CONGRESS will probably do but little business of importance before the holiday vacation.

BRAZIL is larger than the United States, not including Alaska. But the United States is the older by 113 republican years.

PRESIDENT HARRISON and several of the members of his cabinet are expected to attend the opening of the grand auditorium at Chicago next Monday.

THE fair now in progress at the City Y. M. C. A. building for the benefit of that organization is one that calls for liberal patronage from our citizens. The object of the association is to save our young men and make them respected, honorable, God-serving citizens. Can there be a nobler motive? Put in your dimes and dollars, citizens of Fort Wayne, and help the grand cause along.

IT DON'T PROTECT.

A little summary for the year ending November 1, '89, issued by the New York reform club, is rather demoralizing to the republican theory that "high tariff insures high wages and steady work."

Of the 226 important strikes since the election of Tradeboomer Harrison, 199 were in protected industries, and were caused in almost every case by a reduction of wages. They included silk workers, "protected" by a tariff of 50 per cent; coal miners, "protected" by a tariff of 75 cents a ton; steel rail workers, "protected" to the extent of $17 a ton; copper miners, carpet weavers, wire drawers, cigarmakers, thread spinners, and nearly every other class of labor in highly protected industries.

PENNY POSTAGE.

The postmaster-general's report contains some very interesting statistics, and none more so than those showing the rapid increase of business and the extension of postal privileges. With this, however, in a general way, the people are already familiar. It is in the recommendations and suggestions that the development of the system in the future is most clearly suggested.

Among the recommendations urged are the adoption of a marine postoffice system similar to the railway system, free delivery for towns of not less than 25,000 population, postal savings banks and limited telegraph service, and penny postage as soon as possible.

As to penny postage it is not probable it will be delayed more than a year or two at most, as by that time, with wise management, the system will be self-sustaining and the increased and impressing volume of business will fully justify it. For the present the new postal-card, soon to be issued, which is to be practically a letter postal-card, will be the nearest approach to penny postage.

Postal savings banks and limited telegraph service will perhaps be longer coming, but that they will eventually become a part of the postal system everything indicates.

WINDOM'S SILVER POLICY.

The report of the secretary of the treasury is profuse. Like the president's message, it is fertile in suggestions of how to spend the people's money, in order that the accumulation of surplus, resulting from the continuation of war taxes in time of peace, may not be embarrassing. Of course he suggests a reduction of that taxation. He would relieve tobacco from the internal taxes, open up free whisky under the plea of "alcohol for use in the arts," and is even kind enough to suggest, in a vague, general way, some reductions in the tariff. But when he pushes the pension list up to the startling figures of $105,000,000 a year, and wants vast subsidies for an imaginary merchant marine, together with a concession in favor of boiler-plating the Atlantic coast, he practically disposes of the "surplus," and more too.

But that which the country is most interested in is his views as to the silver question. The meat of it is here given:

Issue treasury notes against deposits of silver bullion at the market price of silver when deposited, payable on demand in such quantities of silver bullion as will equal in value, at the date of presentation, the number of dollars expressed on the face of the notes at the market price of silver, or in silver dollars at the option of the holder. Repeal the compulsory feature of the present coinage act.

Stated otherwise it is this: Let the treasury receive silver bullion on deposit and issue notes for it to the amount of its market value in gold at the time of the deposit and redeem the notes at their face value in gold coin or the equivalent of that coin in silver bullion at its market value at the time when the notes are presented for redemption: or, if the holder prefers, at their face value in silver dollars. This, with the repeal of the compulsory coinage provisions of the act of February 28, 1878, would stop the injection of overvalued silver coins into our money circulation as full legal tender and remove or indefinitely postpone the danger of a collapse from the gold to the silver standard, which, as the president says, would be "disastrous to all business interests."

DEATH OF JEFF DAVIS.

Jeff Davis is dead. The rebel chieftain was a conspicuous figure in American history, and although his name will go down to future generations in obloquy, it will ever occupy a prominent place on its pages.

His earlier years were given to the service of his country on the battle field and in the civil councils of the nation, but, wedded to a false idea, he became a traitor and attempted to disrupt the Union.

His treason deserved death by the laws of all nations, but the magnanimity of the American people permitted him to live for more than a quarter of a century after the close of the war, and he died a natural death. His distinguished ability none will ever question, but he died as he had lived, an unrepentant rebel. Let history deal with him as his acts deserved.

Jeff Davis was born in Christian county, Kentucky, June 3, 1808. He was educated at Transylvania university, but left for the West Point academy where he graduated in 1828. He entered the army and followed the fortunes of a soldier until 1835 when he became a planter.

In 1845 he was elected to congress from Mississippi, but resigned in 1846 to serve as colonel of a volunteer regiment in Mexico, and was afterwards made a brigadier general.

In 1847 he was elected United States senator, and was afterward made secretary of war by President Pierce. In 1856 he again took his seat in the United States senate, and in 1861, when the war broke out, he resigned and identified himself with the great rebellion, becoming the president of the so-called "Southern Confederacy." His history since then is well known.

South Bend Tribune: "Simon Pokagon, the chief of the Pottawatomie tribe of Indians, which inhabited Northern Indiana when it was first settled by the whites, will shortly receive for distribution among the people the sum of $200,000 from the government in full settlement of all the claims of that once powerful tribe. The distribution of this sum will probably take place at Pokagon, which town was named after Chief Pokagon's grandfather, who signed the treaty with General Cass in 1826, between his tribe and the Miamis."

The Richmond Palladium says of the counterfeiter who passed bogus $10 bills in this city, and against whom several witnesses from here are testifying at Indianapolis: "Much interest is felt here in the result of the case now on trial at Indianapolis, charging Wm. Rhinehamer, of Washington, this county, with having passed counterfeit money. T. B. Scott, a merchant of this city, received a $10 bill of Walter Elliott, which proved to be counterfeit, seemed astonished that the bill should prove bad, as it had been received from Nicholson's book store for work done, but later claims to have ascertained that the bill was given him by Will Rhinehamer. He is backed by the testimony of his father, sister, and several other parties. Numerous witnesses were introduced to impeach the veracity of the Elliotts. Rhinehamer proves by members of his own family that he was in Greensfork at the time the bill was said to have been passed. Several witnesses were examined who testified that Rhinehamer has long been suspected of being one of a gang that was engaged of passing spurious money. The trial will probably occupy to-day and to-morrow, and it is hard to conjecture what the outcome will be."

THAT EXPRESS ROBBERY.

Local Interest Surrounding the Mysterious Grand Rapids Robbery.

It is supposed from all indications that M. Toots, an express messenger for the United States express company at Grand Rapids, was "done away with" sometime last Sunday night.

There is missing from the vaults of the office, diamonds to the value of between $600 and $700.

The discovery of the robbery was made Monday morning when the office was opened.

Enough was discovered to show that the young man had been reading a book and had stepped out to a closet and from all indications he never came back. His book remained where he had put it, his shoes and socks and other apparel hung on a chair.

A fact conclusive that the young man did not commit theft, is that he had in the big safe an amount of money belonging to himself which exceeds the value missing; and he was familiar with the lock combination.

Detectives from Chicago and Detroit are working on the case.

In the same block where the express office is situated, a large gambling house is conducted, causing suspicion to rest in that direction.

Developments will be anxiously awaited by local express people and others.

The thirty-sixth annual session of the State Teachers' association will be held at Indianapolis, December 25 to 28, inclusive, and promises to be largely attended. A splendid program has been arranged, opening with an address by the retiring president, L. H. Jones, superintendent of the Indianapolis schools, and followed by the inaugural address of the incoming president of the association, Prof. J. A. Zellar, of Lafayette. Among the other eminent speakers announced to take part are Dr. David S. Jordon, of Bloomington; Hon. H. M. LaFollette, W. N. Hartman, J. W. Denny, Prof. James Corburt and others. A number from this city will attend.

"When people suffer from pain they want to be cured, not trifled with. I want Pond's Extract, not an imitation." This was the answer made to a dealer who was trying to make a larger profit by offering a weak imitation of Pond's Extract to a customer. "I know the difference, he added; "one cures and the other disappoints."

Postmasters have no right to deliver letters through the postoffice to boys under twenty-one years of age and to girls under eighteen, except by order of parents or guardians. The law on the subject says: "All letters addressed to girls under eighteen years of age will be placed in care of parents or guardians." If this law was enforced at the postoffices throughout the country it would be hard upon young people who carry on clandestine correspondence, and there are many of them.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders or syringes because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

Montpelier, Laurel, New Trenton and Brookville will all have new railroad depots soon.

"STOP"—Nature Has a Cure.

EATON RAPIDS, Mich.

J. M. LOOSE RED CLOVER Co., Detroit: Two years I was afflicted with a very severe attack of Erysipelas. After two physicians had used their treatment for several weeks and I continued growing blind, and in their diagnosis concluded that there was no earthly help or hope for me, I gave up, having tried all the remedies I knew or heard of. My neighbor, Mr. Miller, came in to see me one day, and said try Loose's Extract of Red Clover, as he had known of its working remarkable cures. I told him I had lost hope, that nothing would do me any good in the world. He insisted, and taking his hat went to the drug store and bought me one bottle and urged me to try it, which I did. Ten days afterward I sent for two more bottles, and it is wonderful how I improved. I continued using it and to day I am better than I have been in years. No sign of erysipelas has shown itself and I heartily recommend it to suffering humanity as the greatest and best blood purifier in existence. Yours truly,
HENRY MARVIN.

Great Improvements.

It is not many years ago since people travelled on horseback or by stages; now fifty miles an hour is not fast enough for them. Formerly people wrote letters that were weeks in reaching their destination; now the telegraph flashes thought around the world. Formerly doctors bled their patients for nearly every complaint; now they use advanced science of the highest order. Prof. Austin Flint, of Bellevue college, says: "The judicious use of alcoholic stimulants is one of the striking characteristics of progress in the practice of medicine during the last half century." Prof. Henry Mott, Ph. D., F. C. S., says: "By a most careful analysis I have found Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey free from adulterations or foreign substances, and it deserves to meet with great success." The well known Dr. W. Hutchinson, of New York, says: "I highly recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and prescribe it extensively in my practice." Rev. R. Mills, of Princeton, Iowa, says: "I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey with great benefit to my wife, who is a confirmed invalid. I know from experience it is a pure and most valuable medicine. I am also using it in the case of my son, who is threatened with consumption. I am a Presbyterian clergyman and a doctor of divinity, but I am not afraid to recommend Duffy's Malt Whiskey as the purest and most efficient tonic that I know of, and my experience is a large one."

Tri-State Building and Loan Association.

The most successful Building and Loan association ever organized in this country.

Within four months it has sold, right here in Fort Wayne, nearly half a million dollars worth of its capital stock.

Do not purchase Building and Loan stock of companies managed by men of whom you know nothing, and which have been organized by parties desirous chiefly of paying themselves fat salaries, at the expense of those who invest with them.

Keep your money at home, where you can watch it. Trust it to the care of the successful, careful business men, who, out of public spirit and for the benefit chiefly of Fort Wayne mechanics, are giving their time and their close attention to the affairs of the Tri-State; refusing any compensation for their services, except that which comes to them in the growth and development of our thriving city.

PREPAID STOCK.

The Tri State is offering a limited amount of "prepaid stock" at the present time. This stock is exceedingly profitable and is only offered for sale at times when the demands for good loans is in excess of the receipts of the company from its installment stock.

One hundred dollars of prepaid stock is sold at sixty dollars. On this $60 there is paid 6 per cent. annual interest, payable semi-annually. At the end of a few years, the profits of the company will mature your stock, and you will receive the full $100 in place of the $60 you pay in. There is no other form of investment, so profitable as this, that yields a regular income. Experience has shown that Building and Loan associations are even safer than banks. No failure of a well conducted Building and Loan association has ever occurred in the history of these institutions in this country.

Application for stock may be made to any officer or member of the association. Rooms 57 and 58, Pixley block. Open from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., and Saturday evenings until 9 o'clock.

WILL FORM A FEDERATION

The Farmers' Alliance and the Farmers' and Laborers' Union to Join Hands.

St. Louis, Dec. 6.—The Farmers' Alliance and the Farmers and Laborers' union, now in convention in this city, have decided upon a federation. Committees from the two associations had a secret meeting yesterday, at which the idea of consolidating was discussed at length. There were no dissenting voices when the question was put to a vote whether the Alliance would consolidate with the Farmers and Laborers' union on certain conditions. The conditions were the approval of the steps taken by the delegates of the two alliances and ratification of the compact by two-thirds of the states represented by alliances.

Mr. Powderly, on invitation of the Farmers' alliance, visited their headquarters and for a half hour held a levee. The expression on the part of the delegates about the hotel corridors is that the visit of the Knights of Labor committee at this time will be productive of good results. While the opinion is general that an amalgamation of the tillers and toilers is not looked on as a consummation that will be reached now or this year, it is thought that the time of a general union of labor will not be deferred long.

THE LOCAL BUDGET.

The monthly pay days will begin next week.

Albert Seeley has taken a position at the Jenney electric works.

W. E. Wench went to Warren to-day, in the interest of his firm.

The new foundry at the Jenney electric light works is ready for the roof.

The turn table at the entrance to the Bass machine shops is being repaired.

W. S. Cooper, of the Pittsburg machine shops, has purchased a new team of horses.

John Wise, a veteran passenger conductor on the Vandalia, is seriously ill at his home in St. Louis.

Rhinesmith & Simonson's large engine will be repaired so that operations can be resumed Monday.

Engineer Johnson tested a new locomotive to-day, which was turned out of the Pittsburg shops yesterday.

The Bass works have just shipped a big punch and shears machine to the Missouri and Pacific shops in the west.

Walter Geberding has been promoted in the freight offices of the Pennsylvania company. He now holds a position in the general offices.

Night before last fifty colored miners left Clay county to go to Strawn, Tex., where the Texas and Pacific road is opening up extensive coal mines.

Dr. Kells and Capt. Robert Harrison secured about fifty new members for the Pennsylvania Mutual Insurance association at the east Pittsburg car shops yesterday.

A train containing Adam Forepaugh's show was at the east yards yesterday. From there it will go to Denver, Col., to put up for the winter, leaving two of their cars at the east yard shops for repairs.

Foreman William Knight, of the east yard car shops of the Pennsylvania company, is pushing work out rapidly. Mr. Knight has been in railroad service for nearly thirty years and is a valued man to the company.

J. B. Armack, master mechanic of the electric light works, at Davenport, Iowa, was married on Wednesday evening to Miss Gusta Muehlenbruck, the ceremony having taken place at the bride's home in this city.

President Hughart and Chief Engineer Johnson with other officials of the Grand Rapids road, came in on a special car from Grand Rapids last night and went east on the Pennsylvania road. Their destination is Pittsburg.

H. S. Stapleford, traveling agent of White's wheel works, was reported to be some better last evening. He was taken ill Thanksgiving day at Louisville and was brought home Saturday evening, since which time his condition has been quite critical.

Within the next three weeks the new corn crop will probably begin to move briskly, and if even the present rate is maintained on the basis of 20 cents per 100 pounds, Chicago to New York, handsome earnings may be looked for, as careful estimates show that it costs but 11 cents a hundred to haul grain from Chicago to New York City.

The oldest railroad president alive lives at North Brookfield, Mass., and his name is Bonum Nye. He is not, however, as many may suppose, related to "Bill" Nye, the humorist. Mr. Bonum Nye is the oldest man in Massachusetts, and has lived under every administration of the United States government. Mr. Nye is believed to be the oldest Mason in the state, and one of the oldest in the United States.

During the month of November a net gain of 1,601 was made to the membership of the Volunteer Relief Association of the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, bringing the aggregate membership up to 7,232, which is about 30 per cent. of the employes on the system west of Pittsburg. The officers of the road hope that the membership will reach 9,000 by January 1, after which time an employe cannot become a member unless he passes an examination.

The general passenger agents of the different railroads throughout the country met at Detroit in August last for the purpose of formulating and adopting a code of rules relative to the transportation of dead bodies. These rules have been submitted to the state board of health and adopted by it. They will go into effect January 1, 1890, and a copy of them will be posted in the passenger stations and depots of all railroads in the state. Agents at the initial station will be held responsible for the enforcement of these rules, and must know they have been complied with before selling passage tickets or accepting any dead body for shipment.

A PHYSICIAN'S OPINION.

W. L. Gleaves, M. D.,
Nodaway, Mo.

A SEVERE COLD.

I had a severe cold for over two months and thought I would try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I commenced taking it last Friday night, and to-day, Wednesday, I am cured of my cold. I can truly say it has no equal.

W. H. Kincaid, Postmaster,
Baden, Kan.

COUGHS.

Having had the occasion to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy it gives me pleasure to state that I found it to be one of the best medicines for a cough I ever used. In fact I was cured of a cough that baffled all other cough medicines but Chamberlain's.

Harrison's Message.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—Alfred C. Brackebush, a coal dealer, having an office in Temple court, made an assignment to-day to Paul Bletchford. Assets $10,000 and liabilities $30,000.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

A Lady of Texas Writes:

My case is of long standing; has baffled many physicians; have tried every remedy I could hear of, but Bradfield's Female Regulator is all that relieved me. Write The Bradfield Reg. Co., Atlanta, Ga., for further particulars. Sold by all druggists.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to take. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Secure seats for "Zig-Zag."

"Zig-Zag" flashes of merriment will light the mental sky at the Temple to-night. The piece was seen here last season, but it has been greatly improved since then and now presents an entirely new picture. Among the company are several shining lights and together with the charming costumes a person is sure to be fascinated.

Joseph Murphy will open his annual engagement at the Temple, Monday next, in "Shaun Rhue," which is a clever piece of dramatic work, with intermingled humor and pathos, and is given a beautiful interpretation by Mr. Murphy and his excellent company. Murphy is very popular with all classes and more particularly with the Irish, who will turn out en masse Monday evening.

Lincoln Wagenhals, a nephew of the Rev. Samuel Wagenhals, of the English Lutheran church in this city, is one of the members of Kiralfy's magnificent spectacular production "Lagardere," which come to the Temple, Wednesday, December 11. Young Wagenhals comes to us with laurels, fresh from recent triumph in the east and his appearance with this company assures the public a good production.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

If you do not receive your Sentinel regularly, please notify us immediately, either in person or by postal card, that we may remedy the fault.

FRUIT HOUSE.

THE GREAT KIRMESS.

Louisville Courier-Journal.

The first presentation of the kirmess has been seen, and a delighted audience has declared it a grand success. The performance was equal in every way to any that could have been given by professional people. There were no tedious waits, no balks, nor hitches, the whole arrangement working as smoothly as if it were the fiftieth appearance of the participants before the foot lights, and not the first, as it was. From the time the curtain rose, at 8:30 o'clock, until it went down on the last dance at 10:35 o'clock, there was nothing to mar the graceful sailing of what reasonably may have been an unmanageable craft.

The house was one that might have well excited the best endeavors, for it was elaborate in many way. All four of the proscenium boxes were filled, there was not a vacant seat in the parquette or dress circle, a row of chairs in the rear of the latter had been taken before the curtain went in, and a hundred or more gentlemen, the majority of them in evening dress, stood about and watched the brilliant show on the stage and the gay assemblage that viewed it.

OUR NEW CHRISTMAS CUSTOMER.

UNCLE SAM: "Howdy, Miss Brazil; Howdy? Bin expectin' ye a long time my dear. How's all the little Brazils?"

BRAZIL. "Uncle, I've come to join the family and I mean to stay. Down there where I live we can't buy any goods worth looking at, so I've made up my mind to supply the needs of my fourteen million sons and daughters from your emporium. This the place?"

UNCLE SAM. "This is the spot my child. Here is where THE C. O. D. keep the prettiest stock of Clothing and Men's fixings you ever sot eyes on. Step inside. Columby, here's your new sister jest come to town to lay in a stock o' Christmas fixings for her folks. Lordy, Columbia, won't we have a jolly Christmas this year, with all the little republics gathered at our table? I begin to feel like a gran'pop, altho' you look as young as ever my dear.
